THE WASHINGTON CONFERENCE.

MR. LLOYD GEORGE DESIRES TO ATTEND.

JAPAN SAID TO BE AMENABLE TO NAVAL FORMULA.

Projected Abolition of Foreign Post-Offices.
(Reuter's Service.)

London, November 28.
There can be no possible doubt of Mr. Lloyd George's desire to participate in the Conference, which he believes may well be the turning point in the history of the world. Apprehensions expressed in various directions concerning the proceedings at Washington are not shared in British authoritative quarters.

Britain's High Hopes.

While the possibility of differences of opinion and temporary setbacks are recognised, the British view is one of real satisfaction and great hope, for on the naval question alone more has been done than most people before the opening of the Conference were prepared to expect; but, a part from naval disarmament, the utmost importance is attached in Britain to the restoration of world peace and financial stability, which must depend upon the treatment of armament questions as a world-wide issue.

Premier's Journey Depends upon Ireland.

With reference to reports that a berth has been provisionally reserved for Mr. Lloyd George on every liner sailing to New York till Christmas, it is authoritatively announced that the Premier's desire to go to Washington is stronger than ever since the proceedings of the Conference strengthened his original hope to the fullest view of its possibilities; but until this fateful week in Irish history has passed it is impossible to say whether he will leave England or not.

Japan Disposed to Accept 60 per cent. Scale.

Washington, November 28.
It is positively stated in some quarters that after a determined effort to secure a standard of 70 per cent. capital-ship strength, Japan is now disposed to accept the original estimate. Until an official announcement concerning this has been made, it would be unwise to build hopes in this respect, but little surprise would be felt were Japan speedily to come into line with the American programme.

Expectations Concerning Shantung.

Though the Chinese question is not susceptible to an immediate solution, some of its aspects are undoubtedly ripe for treatment immediately. It will be surprising were the issues connected with the Japanese Twenty-one Demands and the position of Japan in Shantung are not debated and settled in principle before the Conference rises. The Chinese representatives will certainly raise them, and the Japanese delegation, which has shown laudable moderation during the Conference, may earn the gratitude of the other Powers by facing them frankly in a conciliatory spirit.

Naval Investigations Confirm U.S. Figures.

Washington, November 28.
The American naval authorities have given the British and Japanese naval delegates detailed answers to the questions raised last week regarding the naval reductions programme. It is understood that questions, the nature of which are not disclosed were raised by the Japanese. It is stated authoritatively that the American experts' examination revealed no mistakes in the American figures, and Mr. Hughes' estimate of the present naval strength of the Powers is unchanged.

The Discussions on "Extrality."

The Far Eastern Committee has deferred till to-morrow final action regarding extrajurisdictional rights in China. It is understood that the principle of closing foreign courts in China has been agreed to but consideration of a formal resolution has been deferred along with the question of domestic control of the Chinese railways, which was brought up by the Chinese representatives.

Foreign Post-Offices in China.

Washington, November 28.
Representatives of the nine powers sitting as a committee on the Pacific and Far Eastern questions have adopted a resolution in favour of the relinquishment of foreign post-office privileges in China. All the Powers agreed upon January 1, 1923, as the date of relinquishment, except Japan, whose representatives asked time to hear from their Government.

Later.
Owing to Chinese allegations that opium has been sent to China through the foreign postal systems, thus violating the Anti-Opium Law, the resolution includes a provision permitting the Chinese Customs to examine postal matter passing through foreign agencies for the detection of dutiable and contraband goods. The resolution as adopted provides for the abandonment of post-offices on a date to be agreed later, provided that the China Government maintains an efficient postal service.

U. S. Secretary of State Scotches Rumour.

Washington, November 29.
Another of those rumours threatening the harmony of the Conference has been scotched by Mr. Hughes (U. S. Secretary of State) officially denying reports that M. Briand referred disparagingly to the Italian Army, producing inter alia, the incident at Turin (mentioned in yesterday's cables).

FORTUNE OF BANK EX-CHAIRMAN.

London, November 28.
Mr. J. H. Gwyther, ex-Chairman of the Chartered Bank of India, Australia, and China, left £144,000.

CHINA'S SOUND ECONOMIC CONDITION.

Statement in London Financial Organ.

(Reuter's Service.)

London, November 28.
Contrasting with the gloomy statements in regard to the financial outlook in China, a correspondent in the Financial News described as well acquainted with the Far East declares that China is sound and solvent. Financial conditions in China are much better than in many European countries. For example, the tael is worth four shillings compared with under three shillings before the war, and China is one of the very few countries where post-war business transactions are carried on upon bases of metallic currency. The writer opines that the only real peril lies in the attempt to urge further foreign control, the repugnance to which is universal and profound in China and might gravely affect foreign investments and foreign trade.

P. AND O. REPORT.

No Bonus this Year.

London, November 28.
The Peninsular and Oriental S. N. Co.'s report for the year ended September 30 shows a net profit of £571,466. The sum carried forward is £100,206. The report says that during the first six months of the year steamers were able to do something more than cover expenses, but for the last six months this was not the case. Recent voyages resulted in serious losses, consequently the Directors regret that they cannot recommend a bonus for the past year. When wages and other costs fall to something like normal and trade revives, it is hoped that there will again be a fair margin of profit.

MANCHESTER COTTON INDUSTRY.

More Hopeful Report.

London, November 28.
Financial Times Manchester cotton report says that the market is hopeful, as evidence is accumulating that India will buy soon, though business with India at present does not represent even the fringe of the normal demand. China is very quiet, but smaller Far Eastern markets, such as Java and Singapore, are making varied purchases. Home trade is showing more life, but though there will be no organised 50 per cent. short time, working must be cut fully equivalent to that, unless the demand improves greatly and immediately.

ALLIED DEBTS TO THE U.S.

American Banker's Recommendation.

New York, November 28.
The prominent banker, Mr. Frank Vanderlip, who has returned from a tour of Europe, addressing the Economic Club, urged that the United States devise an easy-payment system for the Allied debts, employ the repayments for the rehabilitation of Europe, and thus accomplish a great good instead of the harm which would result to America and Europe alike if the former insisted to the letter on the repayment of European obligations.

FATAL FIRE AT AMERICAN CINEMA.

Apparently Caused by Incense Exhibit.

Newhaven (Conn.), November 28.
Four were killed and 80 injured in a fire at the Rialto Cinema, which, it is alleged, was started by incense burning during the showing of a film. The spectators were in a panic. Many were trampled on and crushed, others were burned. A dozen Yale University students are among the injured.

THE ARBUCKLE TRIAL.

Accused's Non-Committal Evidence.

San Francisco, November 29.
Arbuckle's evidence-in-chief was noteworthy for the total absence of any admission of misbehaviour on his part. He declared that he found Miss Rappe in his rooms—helped her to bed, and gave her water. He denied that he applied ice.

MOTOR-CYCLES FOR £34.

Features of the Olympia Show.

London, November 28.
The features of the Motor-Cycle Show at Olympia are the cheapness of the machines and the immense development in design. A two horse-power solo is obtainable at £34 and a two-seater of the same type at £60.

DAMAGES AGAINST THE NORTHCLIFFE PRESS.

Premature Obituary Comment.

London, November 28.
Lord Alfred Douglas obtained £10,000 damages against the Associated Newspapers, Ltd., for libel in a biographical notice appended to an erroneous report of his death published in the Evening News in February.

MR. RASMUSSEN.

Arrival in Hongkong.

Mr. Rasmussen, looking very ill and so weak that he had to be carried off boat on a stretcher, arrived by the paddle steamer Ho Nam from Canton shortly after three o'clock yesterday afternoon. Among those who went down to the wharf to greet the young man back home after an absence of two months were his parents and representatives of the Asiatic Petroleum Company in Hongkong. One of the A.P.C.'s men came down in the boat with Mr. Rasmussen, who was confined to his bunk all the journey, and looked after his comfort on the way.

The motor-ambulance was drawn up just outside the wharf and after his parents had conversed with him for a few moments, Mr. Rasmussen was speedily transferred from his berth to a stretcher, carried to the waiting vehicle and conveyed to the French Hospital, where he will remain for a short time until his bullet wounds are healed and he has recovered from the terrible experiences which he has undergone at the hands of the Bamboo River bandits.

Upon examination at the Hospital it was found that Mr. Rasmussen was suffering from a fairly serious wound in his right calf, a flesh wound in his right arm, and two other wounds of a more trivial nature. Mr. Rasmussen's strong constitution will soon pull him round to his normal self again. It is hoped that the bullet wounds will be practically healed in a few days and in a week or so he should be convalescent.

There is no doubt that the unfortunate man has been through a very rough time during the last couple of months. On the day on which he was captured by the bandits although badly wounded, he was forced to march from one o'clock in the afternoon until midnight, and owing to the relentless pursuit that was kept up by the Canton authorities, the brigands kept on the move among the mountains all the time. Mr. Rasmussen's adventures will make interesting reading when he is well enough to relate all that has befallen him—his life among the bandits and the dodges they employed to escape from the search parties that were always on the lookout for them—at one time the brigands hid their captive in a cave, and the devotion of his cook-boy, who kept with his master all the time and was released with him in Saturday.

CHINESE NEWS.

Our Canton correspondent says that the latest information from Wuchow is to the effect that President Sun Yat-sen, in view of the cold weather setting in up north, has ordered all commanders of the troops on route to select suitable places for camping for the time being. The full mobilising order will be delayed en route.

A Peking telegram to hand states that the delegates at Washington say that the Shantung question cannot be brought forward at the Pacific Conference before the other questions now being discussed are settled. It is said that all the Powers including Japan, in view of the difficult position of the finances of China, have shown their inclination to agree to a revision in the customs duty.

The following is from to-day's Canton Times:—We are officially informed that the following gentlemen were elected officers of the International Anti-Opium Society of Kwangtung:—Dr. Wu Ting-fang, Minister of Foreign Affairs; Hon. President, Gen. Chao King-ming, Governor of Kwangtung; President, Mr. A. H. Harris, Commissioner of Customs, and Dr. George C. Hsu, Minister of Justice; Vice-Presidents, Mayor Sun Foo, Treasurer, Mr. S. C. Leung, General Secretary of the Y.M.C.A., General Secretary of the Society and also Head of the Executive Council.

CARGO PILFERAGE.

Restrictive Measures Adopted.

Extensive pilferage of cargo at this port has called for energetic measures on the part of Messrs. Alfred Holt and Company, managers of the well-known Blue Funnel Line. A special representative of the Company has arrived at Hongkong with powers to institute such measures as are necessary to enable a check to be put on all such thefts.

In an interview with the special representative, a reporter of the Telegraph was enabled to obtain an impression of the extent of such pilferage and the measures that have been instituted by the Blue Funnel Line at their ports of call to deal with the problem. Millions of pounds have been lost by British Companies through this practice, and in the case of Messrs. Holt alone, the amount paid out against claims by shippers has reached the large sum of £169,000. It has become necessary, if a stop is to be put to further losses, to set up a system which will guarantee better protection than the Police can give. Theft of cargo are not confined to wharves or docks alone, but there is evidence to show that seamen have also been implicated either by direct participation or by collusion with the dock gangs. To deal with the problem it all its ramifications Messrs. Holt have organised a system of detection which necessitates the placing of watchmen not only on the wharves but also aboard the liners on voyage. To this method the representative attributes the already remarkable reduction in the number of thefts reported.

It was pointed out by the representative that the system was Messrs. Holt's alone, and that other shipping companies have not yet fallen into line with it. The question of responsibility for these thefts has formed the subject of much correspondence between shipping and insurance companies, but unlike the Blue Funnel Line, other shipping companies have been content with referring claims made by shippers on this count to the insurance people. He expressed with satisfaction the assistance rendered him by the Hongkong Police in his efforts to put a stop to pilferage at this port, at least so far as his company is concerned.

The representative, who is accompanied by a staff of subordinates, is to make an early call at Manila where he will deal with the matter at that port. Under the new bye laws granted to the Company, by the Hongkong Government, Messrs. Holt are now empowered to bring prosecutions against trespassers in their godowns, coolies working on the wharves, and any persons who may be found loitering on the premises and not in possession of these discs are liable to prosecution under the new regulations.

CINEMA REALISM.

"Dead Men Tell No Tales"

"Dead Men Tell No Tales," the tremendous melodrama of dark deeds and breathless perils, high romance and startling surprises continues to draw crowded houses at the Coronet Theatre. Based on the famous story by E. W. Hornung, author of "Raffles," the action of the picture revolves about the plot of a pirate gang to rob an Australian treasure ship and then destroy the vessel with gunpowder on the principle that dead men tell no tales. The explosion of the ship at sea is presented with wonderful realism.

MACAO NEWS.

The Harbour Incident.

Our Macao correspondent reports that His Excellency J. Batalha de Freitas, the Portuguese Minister, went to Canton a few days ago to see Gen. Chan King-ming in connection with the harbour incident returned to Macao on Friday last per the British gunboat Cyclops. He went to Canton again on the same boat the next day, after a consultation with the authorities. It is said that the negotiations are going on smoothly and that the incident will be settled in an amiable way without affecting the honour of either party.

A Portuguese weekly paper named Opinion will make its first appearance on Thursday next. Dr. Avelar (barrister) is the proprietor and Mr. Gracias (solicitor) is the editor. The paper will be issued every Thursday.

Two fantan gambling houses were simultaneously robbed by robbers armed with mauler rifles on Friday evening after 9 o'clock, and about $1,000. were taken away. It is said that the robbers came and left by rowing boats.

MOTOR OFFENCES.

To-Day's Decisions.

For not having a rear light while driving in Robinson Road, the driver of motor car No. 347 was this morning fined $5.

George Yin, the son of the comrade of Messrs. Reiss and Co. was the defendant in a summons for reckless driving preferred by Sergeant Hallam. The speed at which the defendant was alleged to have driven was 30 miles, it being stated that he put on speed to pass another car which he had been following. A fine of $25 was inflicted.

Another driver, who was charged for the same offence at Aberdeen Village, was ordered to pay a fine of $20.

Mr. R. E. J. Indsell's decision in the remanded summons against a driver for disobeying the order given by a sergeant on duty at the junction of Nathan and Pak-hoi Roads to give the right of way to another car, was that he was of the opinion that the two drivers were paying more attention to the signals exchanged between them than to the orders of the sergeant. He dismissed the case with a caution.

"Also, two years ago I had a nasty wound break out in my big toe. I had it attended to for about three months, but during that time it had spread to all the toes, with the result that I had to undergo an operation, but with no avail. Then, after another operation, as it did not get any better, I thought I would try your 'Clarke's Blood Mixture' trial. After taking the first three bottles I could walk better, and now after having nine bottles the wound has quite healed, and I am pleased to say I have not seen any sign of it breaking out since."

LEAGUE OF FELLOW-SHIP.*Discussion at Chinese Chamber of Commerce.

The Hon. Mr. Lau Chu-pak presided at a meeting of the Committee of the Chinese General Chamber of Commerce held on Saturday afternoon.

The Chairman referred to the aims of the newly founded League of Fellowship and Service, which were to cultivate a closer relationship between Europeans and Chinese in Hongkong and to remove misunderstandings that occasionally arose between the two communities. There was no discrimination with regard to nationality in the constitution of the League, which, said the Chairman, was to supply a long felt need in that it would provide a means for frequent intercourse between Chinese and Europeans. Mr. Lau Chu-pak proposed that all members of the Chinese Chamber of Commerce should join the League of Fellowship and Service. In time to come they would not fail to realize its advantages.

A Poor Boy's Home.

In Hongkong, the Chairman continued, there was an enormous number of Chinese who, constrained by poverty, had to send their children out to hawk vegetables and cases at the Magistracy of small children being penalized for hawking without licences were of daily occurrence, the punishment being a whipping, and in some cases, imprisonment. In the interests of the poor the Chamber of Commerce had approached the Chairman and Director of the Tung Wah Hospital with a view to establishing a poor boys' home in order to relieve badly circumstanced parents of the hard duty of providing education and vocational training for their children. On the 50th anniversary of the establishment of the Tung Wah Hospital the suggestion was made by him (the speaker) that the Chinese of Hongkong should subscribe $100,000 to build a home for poor children and that the Government be requested to assist. Such a home could do much to diminish crime in the Colony. It would give useful training and education to poor children, who, if left to rove about, were particularly susceptible to corruption. The Government, however, expressed the opinion that if the Chinese could only subscribe $100,000, the amount to be borne by the Government would be too much. The scheme was, therefore, in abeyance.

The League of Fellowship and Service, the Chairman was sure, would be sympathetic and give the scheme their best support in view of its benevolent objects. For this reason he (Mr. Lau Chu-pak) urged the Chinese to support the League by becoming members. The League had, at present, about two hundred European and one hundred Chinese members. The Chinese membership should be larger than that of the European as the native population exceeded the foreign by a big margin. He therefore hoped to see a big increase on the Chinese side shortly.

Electric Meter Trouble.

The Chairman said that lately there had been a good deal of talk that electric meters had been removed from Chinese households soon as the occupants moved out, no matter if they wished to retain them, and that meters which had been carried away, ostensibly for repairs, were returned in bad condition. They "moved rapidly" and did not register correctly the amount of current consumed, with the result that the consumer suffered. He had interviewed the Manager of the Hongkong Electric Company with regard to the matter. The Manager of the Electric Company said that employees of his Company who were sent to remove meters always carried a bill signed by the manager and were numbered and had the name of the Company. No removal for repairs or otherwise, would be done except when done by employees of the Company. The Hongkong Electric Company, said the Chairman, was paying special attention to the matter with a view to putting a stop to this fraudulent practice. People who were troubled by such "gentry" should report the matter to the Electric Company.

Mr. Wong Kam-ying said he had heard of incidents of the kind mentioned by the Chairman and he believed some of the employees of the Electric Company were responsible. For some unaccountable reason, he had not been asked to settle his electric light bills for the last three months and the Electric Company's shuff had not called on him. The electric meter of his residence was removed by somebody some time ago, but was subsequently returned by the Electric Company after he had notified them. However, he noticed that the number on the meter was not the same as that on the former one. Recently, continued Mr. Wong, many new buildings had come into existence and many of the owners were offering high prices for electric meters. This had evidently been the cause of the objectionable incidents complained of.

The Hawkers' Grievance.

As reported previously the Police have decided to clear the centre of the town of all itinerant hawkers of fruit, etc., and those who were affected requested the Hon. Mr. Lau Chu-pak to prevail upon the Captain Superintendent of Police to reconsider his decision and make concessions. Mr. Lau Chu-pak said he could not assist the hawkers against whom the Police decision would be enforced, because not only did the Police object to their presence in the centre of the town but the Sanitary Department was also against them.

THE ROYAL VISIT.Chinese Discuss Celebration Plans.

Presiding over a meeting of members of the Chinese Chamber of Commerce held on Saturday afternoon, the Hon. Mr. Lau Chu-pak, referring to the coming visit of the Prince of Wales, on his way to Japan, said that both Chinese and Europeans had combined to make arrangements to welcome His Royal Highness to Hongkong and to make the event an impressive and memorable one not only to the distinguished visitor but to the Colony. The programme to be carried out by the Chinese community comprised a lantern procession at night and a banquet which the Chinese intend to give at the Tai Ping Theatre. The Chinese Justices of the Peace and merchants had been invited to assist in the arrangements, which, when carried out, would undoubtedly add to the very spectacular appearance of the City, especially at night, when the greater part of Hongkong would be illuminated with lanterns and electric devices. Ornate arches would be erected in those streets where traffic would not be impeded by erections of this description. The expenses entailed by the procession would be borne by the public, while those who attended the dinner at the Tai Ping Theatre would share the cost of that function. In order to achieve a uniform scheme of decoration it was the earnest wish of the Celebration Committee that lanterns should be of the same design. In this connection all who were desirous of taking a share in the decorations should apply to the Secretary of the Chinese Chamber of Commerce for such lanterns as they required.

Mr. Choy Cheong, Manager of the Sun Company, asked the Chairman, whether in view of the movement to "popularise native goods" (in connection with which Hongkong witnessed many public demonstrations some time ago), lanterns of Chinese make could not be used by Chinese in the forthcoming celebrations? Very artistic and of many different sorts were Chinese lanterns, and these, when lighted, would vie with lanterns of other makes.

The Chairman said the object of obtaining lanterns from the one source was to ensure a uniform scheme, but if the Chinese wished to encourage native goods and use Chinese lanterns they could do so; but they should not overlook the object the Celebration Committee had in view. If the Sun Company could, supply Chinese lanterns Mr. Choy Cheong would have to make arrangements with the Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce so that the public might know where to get them.

The places occupied by the hawkers were always littered with fruit refuse and this gave Sanitary coolies a great deal of work.

EARLIER TELEGRAMS.

THE CONFERENCE AND CHINA.

London, Nov. 28.
A special message from Washington says the Conference is unceasingly persevering in its tasks, gradually overcoming obstacles and clearing the way for solid achievements. The fears expressed abroad of certain Powers trying to wreck the Conference are not seriously regarded as the wreckers would only injure themselves. Japan tenaciously clings to her demand for a ratio of seventy per cent. instead of sixty in capital ships as compared with Britain and America.

As regards China, negotiations are progressing satisfactorily. The delegates regard the idea of the regulation of the question of extra-territoriality and mixed tribunals favourably but declare that a thorough inquiry is necessary into the existing situation. The status of foreign Post Offices raises the question of reconciling their efficiency and security with reasonable Chinese desires but the success of these undertakings, as well as the more complex questions of financial reorganisation and disarmament, inevitably depend upon the Chinese establishing a government able to act in the name of the whole of China. It is pointed out that the foreign Powers, no matter how well disposed toward China, cannot establish an independent Chinese Government and, without financial reorganisation, which is impossible except under foreign supervision, no Chinese Government can exercise authority or remain independent of the influence of individual foreign Powers. The Chinese question is therefore not yet regarded as capable of immediate drastic solution.

STARVING RUSSIA.

London, Nov. 28.
Correspondents paint gloomy pictures of famine-stricken Russia. There now appears to be no chance of saving millions of sufferers. The Volga is closed, leaving the starving people of the famine districts blockaded by winter which bars the only way of escape. Relief is only capable by sledge, but many horses are dying for lack of fodder and it is now expected it will be impossible to harness a sufficient number of sleighs to convey the available supplies to the destitute villages.

The League of Nations has appointed Col. Sir H. J. G. Hoare, M.P., as Deputy High Commissioner for the care of Russian refugees in Europe as Dr. Nansen, who is in charge of this work, is overworked and requires assistance.

FANLING GOLF.

Details of Scotland v. England Match.

The match between teams representing England and Scotland, played over the Old Course at Fanling on Sunday, produced, as already reported, a very keen struggle. In the singles in the morning Scotland led by two points but England wiped out the deficit in the afternoon four ball matches and ran out winners by 30 to 19.

Scores.—Singles: England 13, Scotland 14; Foursomes: England 7, Scotland 5. Total: England 20, Scotland 19. The following are the detailed scores:

THE WORLD'S ARMIES.

China Stands First.

Official figures announced at New York show the present active strength of the world's armies. These figures, which are expected to be considered by the Washington Conference, give the respective totals of fourteen of the most important nations in the world as comprising approximately 6,000,000. In the analysis available, China stands out first in the summary of men under arms on Sept. 1st, being credited with 1,370,000. France is far ahead amongst nations free of civil strife, having 1,034,000. Great Britain comes next, with 740,500. Germany is last with 100,000. The United States stands thirteenth on the list with 140,000, thus exceeding only Germany. Japan is credited with 300,000, and Italy 350,000. Figures for other Powers include: Russia, 538,008; Poland, 450,000; Greece, 255,000; Spain, 253,000; Switzerland, 170,000; Turkey, 150,000; Czechoslovakia, 150,000.

EYE COMFORT

means better health and better results from your work, and if your eyes require glasses you have had careful and expert examination in fitting the proper correction. Eye comfort requires also just an expert care in the manufacture and adjustment of your glasses. You will find it worth while to consult a reliable firm, devoted exclusively to optical work: over ten years' experience in the Colony—you will find no better equipment anywhere than in the office and factory of the Hongkong Optical Co., Successors to Clark & Co. Manufacturing and Refracting Opticians, located in 53, Queen's Road Central.

NOTICE.

THE HARBOUR MOTOR BOATS.

We beg to notify the General Public that, effective from 1st December, 1921, the Scale of Fares of motor boats plying for hire within the Harbour Limits will be raised to $2.00 per hour or $1.20 per trip not exceeding fifteen minutes. It is earnestly hoped that Patrons will fully appreciate and readily concede that it is only with reluctance that owners have been compelled to decide upon this small increase, taking into consideration the greatly enhanced cost of labour and materials within recent years, and in view of the fact that they have strenuously striven to maintain, till now, a Scale which was originally introduced some twelve years ago, in spite of adversely changing circumstances.

COMPANY REPORT.

The China Light & Power Company, (1918), Ltd.

The report for presentation to the shareholders at the third ordinary general meeting of the China Light and Power Co., Ltd., to be held at the offices of the Company on Saturday, 10th December, states:

The General Managers have now to lay before the shareholders a Statement of Accounts and Balance Sheet for the 12 months ended on the 30th September, 1921.

The Gross Profit for the above period is $220,984.50

After allowing for:— Interest $31,955.49

Writing off for depreciation of the Company's Lines, Buildings, & Machinery, &c. $2,855.79

Consulting Committee's and Auditors' Fees 3,300.00

98,111.28

The Balance to be dealt with is $122,873.22

which it is proposed to appropriate as follows, viz:—

To write off Goodwill Account 30,000.00

To Reserve for Bad and Doubtful Debts 2,873.22

To pay a dividend of 50 cents per share on 100,000 shares (Old) 50,000.00

To pay a dividend of 40 cents per share on 100,000 shares (New) 40,000.00

$122,873.22

Our earnings have naturally been materially affected by the reduction in the charge for lighting on 1st January last, but nevertheless we have made this loss good and improved upon our earnings for the previous year as well, so that the position is really better than it would appear. The result, however, would have been still better had we been able to accept all the new work we were offered. Unfortunately we could not do this within the time covered by the accounts, as, owing to repeated delays and postponements at home, the last of the new machinery arrived only on 5th September and our output was therefore confined to the capacity of the old factory. We are glad to say that the new installation at Hok-on was completed by the end of September and for the short time it has been running the results have been very satisfactory, showing a marked increase in output with every indication of a growing demand during the coming year.

Consulting Committee.—During the year, Messrs. G. W. Barton and A. H. Compton resigned, and Messrs. H. P. White and S. S. Perry were appointed in their places. In accordance with the Articles of Association the Hon. Sir Paul Chater, C.M.G., Messrs. H. P. White, S. S. Perry, and T. F. Hough retired, and being eligible offered themselves for re-election. Auditors.—The accounts have been audited by Messrs. Linstead & Davis and Messrs. Lowe, Bingham & Matthews in the absence of Messrs. F. Maitland and A. R. Lowe, and Messrs. Linstead & Davis and Lowe, Bingham & Matthews are recommended for election.

WITHOUT PREJUDICE.

IRELAND AND THE BRITISH EMPIRE.

"Three Conditions Desired By All"

At Wolverhampton, Mr. J. R. Clynes, M. P., president of the National Union of General Workers, in a speech referred to the Irish Conference.

There were, he said, three conditions desired by all. These were:-

Unity, understanding, and a spirit of goodwill between the North and the South of Ireland. The freedom of Ireland on a basis of giving the people the sole right to determine all purely Irish affairs, and

The recognition of Irish nationhood within the great family of nations in the Empire.

The speaker went on to say that he was satisfied that these conditions could be established and fulfilled consistently with the sincere recognition of the Throne as a link which bound together all these peoples and nations within the Empire.

If there were no settlement, the alternative was perpetual war between North and South, and between Ireland and Britain.

THE "KING OF PROPHETS."

Proposal to Revise the Koran.

When a Malay was produced in the Second Court at Singapore and reported to be unsound of mind, it was stated that he had written letters to the Sultan of Johore and the Governor asking for monetary assistance and representing that he was a great prophet and wanted to revise the Koran.

In reply to the court he admitted writing these letters, and added that he was the King of prophets by his great learning and wisdom. The laws of the Koran should be revised. He wanted to add to them. The principles laid down in the Koran concerning the relations between husband and wife were defective. He had better teachings in this respect. He was out of employment at present, and that is why he wrote to the Sultan and the Governor for money.

Asked if he had any witnesses, he said he had none except the Koran, the Sultan, and the Governor.

His worship committed him for medical observation.

THE BANQUE INDUSTRIELLE.

Meeting of Hongkong Depositors.

As the result of the good efforts of "Pro Bono," a meeting of Hongkong depositors of the Banque Industrielle de Chine, which suspended payment early in July, was held last evening. There were over thirty people present including all nationalities. A well-known local resident was appointed to the chair, on the motion of "Pro Bono."

For the present we do not publish names.

The Chairman said: This is the first of all, a meeting of those depositors who took the trouble to send in their names in reply to an anonymous letter which appeared in the South China Morning Post. It will be for those present to say if an organization is to be formed of local depositors and an attempt made to prosecute matters as far as possible. Such organizations exist in other places in China. In Shanghai, I understand, there are three committees all working in harmony. They send cables almost daily to Paris—one day to the President, another to a prominent Minister, another to leading papers. It seems a needless expenditure of money, and indicates, to me, a hopeless state of affairs.

French Prestige.

If French prestige is at stake, and this is nominally a French Bank, then four months to re-establish such prestige is sufficient for anyone, be he politician or financier. We have been twitted with secrecy and delay. There has been no secrecy and no delay so far as the promoters of this meeting are concerned. We have been delayed generally by the feverish optimism of the local Manager of the Banque in his statement in Court, an optimism which has not so far materialised. When we decided to solicit names and decide on a course of action, we hoped to be in a position to bring something tangible before this meeting, and with that object in view a letter was written to the Colonial Secretary asking for information. The Colonial Government, immediately the Banque closed, appointed its own Manager, and we felt justified in approaching it regarding the affairs of the Banque.

Government Delay.

It has taken the Government exactly 14 days to write six lines to say that Mr. Nisbet has been appointed provisional liquidator, and referring us to him. I need not go over the story of this sorry business. It is more than familiar to you all. I need only refer you to the official assurances which were given locally by the French Consul when there was a run on the Banque at the beginning of this year, that the credit of the Banque, in conjunction with other French financial establishments, was as good as that of France. The time has now come, is indeed long past, when that statement, causing as it did the necessary tranquillity and assurance, needs to be justified with something more solid than pious statements. It is very easy to launch out into invective, especially when, as appears in the present case, we are being kept in the dark. I should like to ask what steps the Hongkong Government has made to bring pressure to bear upon the French Government through the Home Office, and whether it is possible to publish a statement, or give an indication of the solvency or otherwise of the local Banque?

Local Branch Insolvent.

We have it on good authority that the Banque here, if liquidated separately, has not sufficient funds to pay even 10%. With reference to objections that the Special Manager, Mr. E. A. M. Williams, was getting $100 a day, that was not for himself alone, but for all his staff too. The salary of $100 a day was paid from the 1st of July to the date of the last adjournment in October, since when all the books have been closed and Mr. Williams' salary stopped, as no further work was necessary. Mr. Nisbet, has not displaced Mr. Williams as Special Manager, as is generally supposed: he is just Provisional Liquidator and Mr. Williams is Special Manager, and Mr. Nisbet doesn't get a cent out of the Banque.

French Government Responsible.

The whole responsibility rests with the French Government (vide official statement which the French Consul issued here) and we should use every effort possible to bring them to a realisation of their duty. We have it on good authority that no money was remitted to Paris after the Provisional Liquidator was appointed on the 2nd July 1921. The Banque here had lots of money before, but from about six months before suspension of payment continued calls were made by Paris on Hong-

Special mention must be made of the very kind way in which I was received by Mr. Nisbet and the close attention which he paid to all my enquiries.

"Pro Bono's" Services.

The Chairman also thanked "Pro Bono" for his good services and amidst applause the latter agreed to act as Secretary.

It was formally decided that an Association of Hongkong depositors be formed, and it was further resolved that all depositors and creditors be invited by advertisement to attend a meeting on Friday evening, whereat a committee may be appointed and the steps to be taken will be decided upon.

BRITONS AND CHINESE.

It seems a little ironical that after all these years of close association between Britishers and Chinese in the Far East there should be cause to discuss such a question as the non-friendliness of Britain for China, yet it is a fact that in very many quarters such a question is being debated in all seriousness. The views of one of Britain's delegates to the Washington Conference regarding the nature of the financial assistance which might be given to China and the conditions governing that assistance seem to have upset quite a lot of people, though we should have thought that the Chinese needed no convincing that Britain has always been among their best friends and on many occasions has exerted her influence in highly beneficial directions. Whatever the Washington delegates' proposals may have been we are quite sure they were framed in a spirit of helpfulness and not in a spirit of domination.

In the Daily Press of yesterday morning there was a lengthy article and leader on the question of Hongkong's attitude towards Canton and we cannot but view it as extremely unfortunate that need should have arisen for any such discussion. The interests of the two places are so identical—the success of the one makes for success of the other—that to talk of animosity between them is almost tantamount to talk of suicide. There has, of course, been a little friction and disappointment over the fact that the Hongkong Government has not been free to recognise Canton's Government and there were some unfortunate mistakes made at the time of Dr. Sun's inauguration as President. But we affirm that it is false to speak of animosity between the two peoples and we think there is absolutely no grounds for assuming that Hongkong is jealous of Canton in a commercial way. Rightly or wrongly, we sense a little anti-British propaganda on this matter—not on the part of the Chinese, but on the part of others who are out to profit by British discomfiture. We have been favoured with the latest issue of the China Review, published by American Chinese in New York in sympathy with Canton's cause and we regret to find in it a great deal of derogatory to Sino-British friendship. In discussing a statement by Viscount James Bryce, former British Ambassador to the United States, made regarding the Washington Conference and in which Viscount Bryce states that there is no reason why Great Britain and the United States should diverge in any way where the interests of China are concerned, a writer in this magazine says:—"It is surprising that such an eminent historian as Viscount Bryce, if he bases his present vision upon past performances, cannot see why Great Britain and the United States should not diverge in any way where the interests of China are concerned. It is possible that Viscount Bryce has overlooked the case of Cassel Collieries in Kwangtung and a few other matters of similar nature wherein it is certain the underhand methods employed by British interests in exploiting China would never be countenanced by the people of the United States. Possibly he sees that the present United States government intends to insist upon the policy of the Open Door and he knows that this will strike at the very root of British and Japanese policies in China. Perhaps the drop of oil is merely to ease any tension in Washington which might occur were the truth regarding the attitude of the governments of Great Britain and Japan toward China made known to the American people."

Now, that kind of talk is false to Britain and we think that any impartial historian will have no difficulty in pronouncing the fact that Britain, throughout the whole course of her diplomatic dealings with China has dealt not only as fair with China as any other nation but a great deal fairer than many. And if our Chinese friends will but stop to analyse that statement and all that is carried with it we think they will be forced to agree.

NOTES & COMMENTS.

Chinese Sovereignty.

As the reports concerning China come along it must be confessed that the impression of topey-turvydom grows rather than diminishes. From Washington we hear that the assembled Powers have adopted a resolution in favour of the abolition of foreign post-offices in China on January 1, 1923. It also appears to be agreed that "extrajurisdiction" must go. This latter decision, however, is qualified by the phrase "in principle," which may mean that things are pretty much as they were. The Powers had already agreed to the abolition of extra-territoriality when China shall have established a suitable judicial system. It is easy to understand the feelings of a country with China's ancient civilisation at having her sovereign rights held in abeyance, but prominent Chinese have felt compelled to acknowledge the defects upon which extra-territoriality is based. In regard to the post-offices, very considerable progress has been made—largely, it should be added, with foreign aid. Regarding legal privileges, credit must be given to Chinese jurists for their efforts in evolving a modern code. That, however, is only the first step. Were the code drafted by a Justinian, it would be of little use in the absence of efficient administration. A Peking report announces that the salaries of the official staffs are so much in arrears that "the Government is now out of the habit of paying them." Strikes and threats of strikes are the order of the day, the Ministry of Justice being one of the departments affected. When that kind of thing goes on with the eyes of the world upon China, what is going to happen at other times?

A Famous Nonagenarian.

Perhaps not since the memorable presentation to Caribia by a band of brother authors (one might add "and sister," for George Eliot was among them) on his eightieth birthday has there been an event so noteworthy as the address tendered last month to Mr. Frederic Harrison by nearly a hundred of the most eminent living men. We do not forget Lord Morley and others, but the English exponent of Comtism stands distinctly first by the calendar. It is with a certain feeling of envy that we have read the article of an interviewer. Fancy conversing with a man who was tutored by an acquaintance of Dr. Johnson! When Mr. Harrison was born there were still goodness knows how many capital offences on the Statute-book. Steam locomotion had been invented, certainly; yet it was still something of a novelty to travel by train. How many great figures that are but names to us and indeed to the grandparents of the growing generation have passed across the stage during the veteran's lifetime! In his childhood Wellington was Premier. And at ninety, as the interviewer states, Mr. Harrison "is not only still alive, but he is one of the most live men among us." He represents the relatively rare type of a man of letters who is also a man of affairs, notwithstanding that he has avoided direct association with politics. Mr. Harrison has produced a whole library of books—biographies, essays, and novels. He is still at it, too, as articles in the October reviews bear witness. More than this, he has just finished a new book.

Another Story.

If Mr. Harrison may be quoted as an example of fame, another announcement to catch the eye might be cited as an illustration of notoriety. Fifteen years ago the newspapers of the two hemispheres were filled with the Thaw trial, arising out of the shooting of Stanford White, an artist, at a fashionable roof-garden restaurant in New York. It transpired that before her marriage to Harry Thaw, a young millionaire, Evelyn Nesbit, as she then was, had been betrayed by the artist. Nevertheless, the deliberate shooting of White some time after the occurrence and some time after Thaw's marriage caused a widespread outcry, with demands for the extreme penalty. Eventually after a second trial, the first jury disagreeing, Thaw was adjudged insane. Some little while later the prisoner sought to obtain his release on the plea that he had recovered sanity, and ultimately he was successful in regaining his liberty. Meanwhile his wife, formerly a chorus girl, had obtained a divorce and resumed her maiden name. She returned

DAY BY DAY.

THE MATTER WHICH YOU WISH TO PRESERVE AS A SECRET, IMPART NOT TO ANYONE, ALTHOUGH HE MAY BE WORTHY OF CONFIDENCE; FOR NO ONE WILL BE SO TRUE TO YOUR SECRET AS YOURSELF.—Snod.

During the week-end there was one non-fatal case of plague reported and also one non-fatal case of diphtheria.

Whilst at work aboard the Taisama a cargo coolie accidentally fell into the hold and was seriously injured. He was removed to the Kwong Wah Hospital.

A marriage has been arranged and will take place at Tientsin on December 24th, between Mr. F.G. Trobridge (of the China Mining & Metal Co. Ltd., Hongkong) and Miss M. A. Llewellyn of Chatham, England.

The dead body of a Chinese eighteen year old girl was taken to the Kowloon Mortuary from Lamma Island by the police yesterday. Marks of violence indicated that she was the victim of a murder.

A plot of Crown land, comprising 29,392 square feet, was sold by auction at the Public Works Department to a client of Messrs Denison, Ram and Gibbs, architects, yesterday afternoon, the amount involved being $3,140 (the upset price).

Last week witnessed a little increase in the number of notifiable cases as compared with recent experience. There was one fatal case of plague and one fatal case of enteric fever. Five non-fatal cases of diphtheria and three non-fatal cases of paratyphoid fever were also notified. Two Chinese died of influenza.

We have received from the Canadian Pacific Steamships Ltd. four very attractive folders setting forth the attractions of resorts in the ever-famous Rockies and detailing sight-seeing tours and holidays. Those who contemplate spending a holiday on the other side of the Pacific would do well to consult these little brochures.

A charity concert in aid of the dependents of the late Leading Stoker W. Norman of H.M.S. Titanic, who died on Wednesday last leaving a widow and three young children, will be given in the Royal Navy Canteen Theatre on Friday next, December 2nd, by the Titanic Concert Party. The programme will take the form of a variety entertainment and will be similar to that recently given in Shanghai and which proved such a huge success. The Rev. Gordon W.B. Stott, Chaplain of the ship, is anxious to secure a large attendance for such a deserving cause.

At the Helena May Institute last evening Mr. A. H. Crook delivered a most interesting lecture on "Early Man" in the presence of a rather small but appreciative audience. The lecturer dealt with his subject in more or less popular manner, speaking of the great difficulty of research work regarding anything earlier than the pleistocene period and the difficulty of differentiating between simian and human remains beyond that period. The advent of neolithic man and the subdivision of the human race into "races" was touched upon, the lecture being illustrated by a number of interesting charts. At the close the Hon. Mr. E. Irving (Director of Education) expressed the thanks of those present.

A DIVORCE PUZZLE.

"My late wife is now a widow," declared a man to a puzzled magistrate at Tottenham. "That is beyond my comprehension; what do you mean?" asked the magistrate. "I married a widow," explained the man, "and later divorced her. I take it she now reverts to her original status as a widow."

to the stage, but apparently her vogue spent itself, and she opened a tea-shop in New York. This, too, was unsuccessful. When the City Marshal called last month to carry out an eviction order, the proprietress was found insensible as the result of an attempt to end her life by a narcotic. The spectacle strikes a pathetic note at the same time that it offers a warning against the primrose path.

ON THE WATERFRONT.

A Former German Steamer Arrives.

Making her last trip under her present name the former German steamer Kleist arrived in port this morning. She is still under the control of the Imperial Japanese Government but she will be transferred to the N.Y.K. when she reaches Japan and will then become the Yoshino Maru. She encountered very heavy weather from Singapore and arrived here two days behind scheduled time.

Kleist's Passengers.

The Kleist carried 233 passengers and 59 bags of mail. There were 115 first-class passengers, 75 second-class, 34 intermediate and 3 third class. Amongst the passengers for Hongkong were—

Mr. D. K. Blair and Mr. A. J. Martin of Messrs Lowe, Bingham and Mathwa.

Mr. D. J. Brown, of the P.W.D. Mrs. Brown and child.

Mrs. A. R. Crapnell, wife of the manager of Messrs Lane Crawford & Co.

Mrs. R. H. Cousins, wife of the yard superintendent, Taikeo.

Mr. A. R. Sutherland of Ellis Kadoorie School.

Mrs. W. J. Hill of Taikeo.

The Kleist carried over 6,000 tons of cargo, only a matter of 400 tons odd for Hongkong, however. Iron goods, dyes, machinery and chafers of potash were the chief items.

The Korea Maru.

The T.K.K. Korea Maru arrived yesterday with 49 first class and 259 Chinese deck passengers. She had 52 bags of mail. Among the passengers who arrived on the Korea Maru were: Mr. G. L. Dias, Mr. L. E. Ensign and Rev. Brother James.

The Empire State.

The Pacific Mail Empire State with the big Californian business party on board arrived at Manila yesterday morning and is due here on December 4.

New Vessels.

The Admiral Line vessel, Pine Tree State, is due to leave Seattle on her maiden voyage on December 10. The Bay State will start on her initial Trans-Pacific voyage on December 5.

The New York Maru.

From a usually well-informed source came the information this morning that the Japanese tug, which arrived back in port after an unsuccessful attempt to reach the New York Maru, was returning to Japan without making another attempt. Messrs. Suzuki and Company, however, inform our representative that the tug is to make another effort to reach the vessel and is not yet returning to Japan. The seas round the Paracels are very heavy and no tug can possibly get near the wreck at present.

A Newcomer.

The Karimata, a fine vessel belonging to the Netherlands Royal Mail Steamship Company is in the harbour for the first time. Her usual run is from Amsterdam to Batavia, but she has been chartered, for one trip only, by the J.C.J.L. line. She carried to Hongkong from Batavia no fewer than 125,000 piculs of sugar in addition to tapioca and flour, also 100 passengers. From here she goes to Saigon and thence to Batavia to resume her European run.

Yuensang's Rough Trip.

The Yuensang which arrived to-day had a rough voyage from Manila and was a day late in reaching Hongkong. Very heavy seas were encountered, the waves at times sweeping over the vessel with great force. Some of her superstructure aft was swept away, but otherwise no material damage was done.

Big Cement Plant.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Shannon, of Chicago, were among the passengers for Manila on the Keystone State. Mr. Shannon is secretary to Mr. Charles F. Massey, of the Massey Concrete Products Company, who arrived last month on the Wenatchee to supervise the launching of a project to build a $10,000,000 cement plant on the island of Cebu.

Back From America.

After two years at Georgetown University, District of Columbia, preparing for his work, Jose D. Peralta, of San Fernando, province of La Union, P.I., arrived back on the Keystone State to take a post as land law clerk under the insular department of agriculture. He was formerly attached to the department of the interior at Washington. Mr. Peralta spent two years at the University of California before matriculating at Georgetown, from which he graduated recently with the degrees of LL.B. and LL.M.

OBITUARY.

Mr. F. J. Awdry.

It was with very deep regret we learned yesterday afternoon of the death from small pox in Shanghai of Mr. F. J. Awdry, who was until lately associated with the staff of the Hongkong Telegraph. The late Mr. Awdry, who was quite a young man in his twenties, came to Hongkong from New Zealand where he had had considerable reporting experience in connection with shipping matters. In Hongkong he instituted our column "On the Waterfront" and soon became extremely popular among the local shipping offices. Painstaking and conscientious he was a valuable member of our staff and was only with us a short while when he was offered a better position on the Shanghai Times, which he left to take up with the good wishes of all with whom he had been brought into contact here. Prior to coming to Hongkong, Mr. Awdry had been to the United States where he secured an engagement on a prominent San Francisco newspaper. Much sympathy is felt among local journalists for the deceased's mother and sister in New Zealand.

THE CHINA FLEET.

New Ships Coming Out.

That the China Fleet will, the next year, be constituted of bigger cruisers than the ones now in commission is the information secured by a Telegraph reporter. The four ships of the "C" class—the Colombo, Carlisle, Curlew and Cairo—will, it is understood, be allocated to other stations, and their places in the China Fleet will be taken by units of the "D" class. These are the Diomedes, Durham, Dispatch and another. All now are being fitted out at Home and will be sent out to Hongkong in due time. They are of a heavier type than the "C" boats, being post-war vessels and embody the latest improvements in naval armaments and construction.

Between Ourselves

By Robt. MacWhirter.

Right enough, you man Crook's no fool. I solemnly believe he knows more about early man than early man ever did about himself. MacPherson and I climbed the hill together and were in fine time. We got into the hall just to see what looked, at first, like a lot of washing being hung on a line but which on closer examination proved to be charts strung across the platform. Mac was for turning back thinking it an Art Society show but as I pointed out it needed more than imagination to draw like you.

Mr. Crook was very good and obviously knew his subject. It was a perfect treat to listen even if at times a body didn't understand half of what he said. But that wasn't his fault. If I'd had a schoolmaster like you I'd no be on the China Coast to-day. Mac, he was impressed as well and only made one slip. That was when he asked me if you Harburt stuff was really discovered in the Plasticine Age. He says thought as much, he said, from the decayed smell it had. But let it pass. Ye canna' expect an old man that was working for a living at the age of ten to be as gleg in the up-tak as some o' yon schoolmasters that graced the proceedings wi' their presence. A sort of busman's holiday you was, but it would do them no harm to hear some o' yon big words pronounced as they should be.

Ay, I was just turning the whole affair over in my mind afterwards and I've come to the conclusion that a man like Mr. Crook's fair wasted teaching a lot of youngsters. Where you man should be is at the University and doing research work at that. Whether he wants it or no, that's where he should be and if our Lamp of Asia had a few like him there would be less monkey nonsense one way and another, less bickering and snarling and something done more in keeping wi' an institution that's had so much good money spent on it. I only hope Mr. William Brunyate will see into the matter.

There's one thing certain and that is, even if we couldn't pretend to follow everything that was said last night there was none left yon hall but what was thoughtful. Even our Director of Education seemed to be impressed. I couldna' help but think of the kind of life early man led and compare it wi' our existence

CORRESPONDENCE.

To the Editor of the "Hongkong Telegraph."

Banque Industrielle.

Dear Sir.—I have read in your papers of the 26th and 28th, inst. that a meeting of depositors of the Banque Industrielle de Chine is to be held in a few days. Being a depositor to the extent of over £1,000 I would be glad if you could inform me through the medium of your paper how I can get in communication with the gentlemen arranging the meeting.

Yours, etc.,

ANXIOUS DEPOSITOR.

[Mr. H. J. Silva, of Messrs. Dodwell and Company, has been appointed Secretary of the new Association and a publicly advertised meeting is due to take place on Friday.—Ed. H.K.T.]

LADIES' GOLF.

The Championship Draw.

The drawing has now taken place for the Championship of the Ladies' Section of the Royal Hongkong Golf Club. The first round must be played by December 9th, the second round by December 16th, the third round by December 23rd, the semi-final by January 6th, and the final either on Sunday, January 8th, or Sunday, January 15th.

The draw has resulted as follows:—

1st Round.—All byes excepting Mrs. Fitzroy Williams v. Lady Ross Davies, Mrs. Adams v. Mrs. James, Mrs. Coppinger v. Mrs. Pearce, Mrs. Stern v. Mrs. Armstrong.

Second Round.—Mrs. Bowden-Smith v. Mrs. Moore; Mrs. Griffin v. Mrs. Drow, Mrs. Dalgety v. Mrs. Crawford Morgan, Miss Rodger v. Mrs. Mitchell, Mrs. Redmond v. Mrs. Winslow, Miss Duff v. Mrs. Crawford.

to-day. We're eye being told that we abuse our systems. That our teeth decay because we dinna' brush them. That our stomachs rebel because of improper diet and a doctor'll tell ye fourteen different causes of appendicitis. I wonder now if early man ever had the toothache for instance? Wi' a jawbone like some that Mr. Crook showed us and molars built to grind crude food and to tear flesh, it's no likely. I couldna' help wondering either, when the lecturer was explaining some of the difficulties of the anthropologists, what one of these birds a couple o' thousand years hence will think when he digs up one of our skeletons and finds instead of teeth, a job lot of porcelain stuck on a rubber plate! Of course, when they're nothing but a few bones left to ponder over it must be a dickens of a job at the best of times but the dear ladies' feet after a bit will be more than a problem unless size three and French heels get out of fashion within the next hundred years or so. Ay, true, as Mr. Crook said an anthropologist has no easy job to-day but it'll be a picnic compared to the guessing competition by the time we belong to a new geological period and our bones rest beneath the rubbish of a new Ice Age.

It would truly seem that as man progresses mentally he loses all the sense he ever had and backslides physically into the bargain. When we ceased to burrow homes in the hillsides and added new means of defence to our bare hands, nature discarded talons and gave us neat pink nails instead. As our fur moults we took to clothes and fashion pages. The jaw got smaller as our food became predigested. Clothes and cities made the doctor and dentist an institution among us.

I wonder also if, despite the League of Nations and Disarmament Conferences, whether modern man will die out like his Paleolithic pals? What does the future hold for the race? Will we all be gone some day perhaps leaving only a stray tooth on the sea bed or a footprint on some mud flat? The instinct of self-preservation is strong, I know and man has an ingenuity in frustrating the hostile forces of nature. But nature, fair lady, will aye have the last word.

But makae, we're no dead yet and the Ball's the morn's night. Wha's like us? Deil the one!

CHINA'S NEED OF SHIPPING LAWS.

Neglect of Maritime Regulations.

However chaotic may be the condition of China to-day—politically and economically—it is a fairly safe assumption that there will come a time when the Chinese nation will turn from its present occupation of internal bickering, distrust, mutual slaughter, wasteful spending and useless military operations and revert to or adopt a system calculated to bring to the country economic salvation and a more or less lasting peace. Such a change is bound ultimately to come—whether it will be brought about by international intervention, by the efforts of the Chinese people themselves, or by any other means, is at present immaterial for present conditions in the land render the achieving of the end far more important than the means to that end.

Even before the Revolution, China has aspirations to become an important maritime nation, but the events of the past decade, and particularly of the last two years, have so jeopardised any chances in that direction that now they cannot possibly be realized fully for many years to come, even under the most favourable of conditions. If the China-to-be is to develop into anything like a maritime nation, one of the first steps to be taken when her house is once again put in some degree of order will be the drafting and adoption of a set of real laws relating to China's merchant shipping.

The only thing of that nature which she possesses at the present time is that set of regulations regarding harbours, channels, etc., which were brought into operation during the regime of the late Sir Robert Hart; more than half-a-century ago and which, with, of course, modifications and amendments, are in force at the present day. It is true that China is a power signatory to that set of world regulations known popularly as the "International Rule of the Road," but beyond that she has no shipping regulation under which any of her mariners could be arraigned for maritime misdemeanour, nothing to say who can and who cannot, who shall and who shall not, serve as a merchant service officer, and, in general, nothing which could be of the slightest use in maintaining and controlling the merchant marine to which she aspires.

It is true that China is not a great seafaring nation, yet nevertheless she possesses hundreds of ships, ranging from ocean-going freighters to steam ferry boats. We may mention in passing that at present there are seventy-four shipping companies registered in China, the aggregate capital being £10,189,000, plus £1,731,000, plus ¥200,000, the largest of the companies concerned (the China Merchants' Steamship Navigation Co., Ltd.) with £4,000,000 and the smallest (the Yung Chi S.N. Co., Ltd.) with $3,000. We are unable to ascertain accurately the total tonnage of vessels operated by these seventy-four companies, many of which do not operate a vessel of 100 tons.

Shipping laws have been found to be an absolute necessity by countries owning even less shipping than does China, and if China is ever to achieve the ambition of many of her sons—that she be worthily represented in the merchant marine of the world, the first step to be taken will not be the acquisition of a huge fleet of freighters or other vessels, but the adoption of a set of shipping laws (on the lines of those of any great maritime nation) which will meet all eventualities, national and international.

There has been a great deal of agitation among certain elements in some of the Chinese shipping companies to eliminate the foreigner and substitute him by native Chinese. The idea is both patriotic and laudable but, nevertheless, rather impracticable at present, and if some of the advocates of the change were to concentrate the energies which they are utilizing in this matter, on the subject of the necessity of shipping laws, they would be doing a service which would result ultimately in benefit to their national shipping and to the individual companies in which they are interested.—Shipping and Engineering.

OVERSEAS CLUB TO PETITION FOR CHARTER.

Members of the Overseas Club and Patriotic League decided to petition the King to grant a Royal Charter of incorporation.

FORMER CHIEF JUSTICE OF THE S. SETTLEMENTS.

Appreciation of Sir Lionel Cox.

Reference to the death of Sir William Henry Lionel Cox, formerly Chief Justice of the Straits Settlements was made in the Supreme Court at Singapore. The Chief Justice, Sir Walter Shaw, was accompanied on the Bench by Mr. Justice Barrett-Lennard. Leading Members of the Singapore Bar were present, among them being the Attorney-General, Sir J. W. Marison, the Public Prosecutor, the Hon. Mr. G. G. Seth, the Official Assignee, the Hon. Mr. C. J. Saunders, etc.

The Chief Justice said confirmation had been received of the report of the death of Sir Lionel Cox, who was for so many years the distinguished senior member of the Bench of that Colony. The late Chief Justice went to the Straits in the year 1893 from the Colony of Mauritius, where he had occupied an important post under Government, and he presided on the Bench of the Colony for the period of 13 years. During that time he earned the reputation of being a careful and upright judge. In his profession and in his private life he was most popular. He had many friends here and those who knew him would greatly regret his death. He was sorry to say that he never met the late Chief Justice, but there were several of the senior members of the Bar who knew him well and knew his singular gifts and great qualities. On behalf of the members of the Bench over which Sir Lionel presided for so many years, he would like to express to the friends of the Chief Justice their sympathy in the great loss they had sustained.

The Attorney-General said on behalf of the Bar he would like to say that they all associated themselves in every way with the remarks which had fallen from his Lordship's lips. The period during which the late Chief Justice presided in that Court was longer in comparison with what usually happened. During the whole of that time the late Sir Lionel earned the respect and affection of all those who practised before him. He had left, indeed, a great reputation for efficiency and courtesy to the Bar. He felt it a very great loss not to have been personally acquainted with him. There were, however, some present who were acquainted with him in his work. Therefore, while from information he had received, he endorsed what his Lordship had said with regard to the good qualities of head and heart of the late Chief Justice, he personally, through lack of acquaintance with him, was unable to do justice to his memory. His memory remained green among many people here, and in a more permanent form it would remain green in the Reports of the Colony, where he had left many learned judgments for the inspiration and instruction of those who were less abundantly endowed than he was. He would ask Mr. Koek to supplement the remarks he had made, as he was for a long time personally associated with the late Chief Justice. Before doing so he would like to express the hope that the remarks which had been made would be recorded on the Minutes of the Court and a copy of them forwarded to the relations of the Chief Justice.

Mr. Koek said, on behalf of those who had the honour of practising before the late Sir Lionel Cox, he wished to say that they all testified to his courtesy and impartiality as a judge. His invariable patience and sympathy with litigants, poor or oppressed, became distinctive features of his character. His wide legal experience in the Civil Service in Mauritius greatly contributed to his success as one of the able administrators of the Straits. As the Chief Justice had stated, in private life he was most popular, being gifted with a charming manner and a kindly disposition. They who had known the late Sir Lionel did indeed regret his death. He seconded the motion that a record of the proceedings should be placed on the minutes and a copy forwarded to the relatives.

The Registrar of the Court was instructed accordingly.

RICSHA COMPANIES.

According to the Chinese press, ricksha coolies are engaging their vehicles from Chinese companies instead of foreign companies which are alleged to be increasing their hiring charges. The Chinese companies, which have not raised their rentals, are said to be doing plenty of business.

EX-SOLDIER'S TRIAL BY SINN FEIN.

Story of an Attempted Execution.

An extraordinary story was told to Judge Johnston at Castleblayney Quarter Sessions arising out of a claim for compensation by an ex-Serviceman named John McCabe, who was tried by a Sinn Fein court as a spy, sentenced to death, and after being attended to by a priest was taken out and shot.

Mr. William Johnson, who appeared for the applicant, said that McCabe served during the war with the 16th Irish Division. On the termination of the war he commenced business as a traveller and went from house to house selling articles. For some reason or other he evidently incurred the suspicion of some members of the "Irish Republican Army."

On April 14 last, after he had sold a bicycle in Carrickmacross, a stranger offered him a seat on a motor car, which McCabe accepted. There were four men in the car, including the driver. The car proceeded for four or five miles and stopped at a gate which led into a house. McCabe was ordered out of the car and his eyes were blindfolded with a handkerchief. He succeeded in removing the handkerchief and saw some of the party opening the gate. He screamed for help, but the men overpowered him and led him to the house. The window of one of the rooms was broken and the three men went in through it, leaving the driver with the car. They forced McCabe to go in with them, and then charged him with coming from Belfast to spy upon them.

McCabe was bound, and two of the party in the course of the evening left the house, and returned with about fifteen other men, who also entered through the broken window.

McCabe was again charged and protested his innocence. A priest was sent for, McCabe being a Catholic. He received absolution, and then appealed to the priest to intercede with the party to save his life. The clergyman replied that he could not interfere, and he then left through the broken window.

McCabe was taken by the entire party across country, was made to face a bush, and a handkerchief was placed over his eyes. A shot rang out and McCabe fell on his side from the effects of a bullet wound in the back. While lying on the ground he was shot in the thigh, and a third shot struck him in the head. The party, evidently believing him to be dead, retired. After they had gone McCabe struggled to his feet and dragged himself, with his arms still pinioned, to two houses, where he sought admission, but the occupants would not admit him. He struggled to an out-house and fell exhausted. He was discovered next morning by the owner, who released him from the strap.

McCabe gave evidence, and was awarded the sum of £4,000, with £104 4s. 6d. medical expenses, and fifteen guineas for other expenses.

"SAFE AND EFFICIENT."

Dr. Milton Hersey's Report On Baby's Own Tablets.

That there are no injurious drugs or opiates in Baby's Own Tablets is proved by the certificate of Dr. Milton Hersey, Official Analyst to the cities of Quebec, and Montreal, of which the following is a copy:—

"I hereby certify that I have made a careful chemical analysis of Baby's Own Tablets."

My analysis has proved that the Tablets contain absolutely no opiate or narcotic.

They can be given with perfect safety to the youngest infant.

They are a safe and efficient medicine for the troubles they are indicated to relieve and cure.

(Signed) MILTON L. HERSEY, M.A., SC.

No other medicine of such aid to mothers for their little ones as is Baby's Own Tablets, the Canadian children's remedy. These pleasant-tasting little Tablets gently regulate the stomach and bowels, and are a remedy for simple fever, indigestion, colic, constipation, diarrhoea and worms. MR. LLOYD GEORGE ON HIS THREE TASKS.

Peace for Ireland, the World and Trade.

A message from the Prime Minister was read at a meeting at Portmadoc—the first of a series of Coalition Liberal demonstrations in Carnarvonshire.

Mr. C. A. McCurdy Chief Government Whip, who was the principal speaker, said Mr. Lloyd George wished him to tell his Welsh Liberal friends that he was engaged in two great tasks. The Prime Minister's words, said Mr. McCurdy, were:—

I am doing my utmost to bring peace to Ireland, and I am doing my utmost to secure permanent peace for the world.

I am also going to do my utmost in what is more important at home; to secure peace for industry.

Mr. McCurdy said it was necessary that the support and co-operation of all parties should be given to the Prime Minister in the gigantic task before him, which threatened the stability of the world.

PLEA FOR DISARMAMENT.

Taxation was oppressing the individual, strangling trade, and causing unemployment, and the only hope that could be held out was disarmament by means of a great Conference at Washington. Mr. McCurdy deplored the action of the Labour leaders in leaving the ship of State in a time of distress, and said he was certain there would be little or no unemployment if they had not deserted the Government when their advice and help was most necessary.

As regards the Irish question, for 30 years Mr. Gladstone had attempted to settle it on fair lines but his camp was divided. Mr. Lloyd George was able to offer a more generous measure of Home Rule than Mr. Gladstone ever dreamt of, and as he had the consent of all parties, he was in a position to deliver the goods.

COMMERCIAL NEWS.

AUSTRALIA AND THE SILK INDUSTRY.

Two Chinese merchants have arrived in Sydney with a view to establishing additional Australian connections in the silk industry.

AUSTRALIAN TRADE COMMISSIONER.

The South Australia Government has appointed Mr. A. A. Markwell as its trade Commissioner in the East. His appointment is for one year, and he will, during his tour, visit China and possibly Japan.

TRADE ASSOCIATIONS IN SHANGHAI.

The international character of Shanghai trade has resulted in the wrecking of many attempts to form associations of merchants for handling particular lines of goods. It is, therefore, of some interest to learn that the Reinforcing Steel Association has been in successful operation since early this year. This association was formed among stockholders of reinforcing steel bars to control the liquidation of the stocks held in Shanghai. Owing to war delays in the execution of orders, many firms had placed further tenders in the hope of getting quicker deliveries. In the year 1920 both old and new orders were delivered together. Besides this, a number of newly-established firms had imported stocks of reinforcing bars in the belief that there was a profitable outlet in China. The result was that at the beginning of 1921 the Shanghai market was heavily overstocked, and was faced with the possibility of cut-throat competition. Meetings were called of those interested; and these meetings resulted in the formation of the Reinforcing Steel Association. The affairs of the association are controlled by a small, but strong, committee. The main feature of their policy is the decision to meet all competition, and not to make the purchaser pay more for local stocks than he would have to pay for new importations. The association's price is, therefore, adjusted on the basis of the cheapest available bars which can be imported. No attempt is made to force buyers to give excessive prices even for prompt delivery, and in this way the association has been able to avoid any unfriendly feeling on the part of the buyer, the banks or the well known suppliers. A storage scheme is at the disposal of the members, and the association's godowns, which have a very large capacity, are always well filled.

FISCAL COMMISSION FOR INDIA.

With the approval of the Secretary for India the Government of India has decided to appoint a Fiscal Commission "to examine, with reference to all the interests concerned, the tariff policy of the Government, including the question of the desirability of adopting the principle of Imperial preference."

SHIPPING NEWS.

JAPAN-AMERICA SERVICE. Already more than fifteen Japanese ships have been allotted for the transportation of wheat and timber from America to Japan ports, but the Mikami Ooshi Kaisha has found it necessary to allot more ships for this service and has chartered the Konan Maru, 8,460 tons, from a Japanese shipping concern at ¥2.35 a ton.

DANISH TONNAGE LAID UP. The improvement in the shipping market noticed at the end of July would appear to have been merely temporary, and the number of Danish ships laid up to be again increasing. At the end of July, when the amount of laid-up tonnage reached its maximum, there were 144 ships laid up, with a total of 556,000 gross tons. A diminution was noted until the start of Oct., when the figures again commenced to increase, rising from 82 ships of 151,000 tons to 84 ships of 155,000 tons. It is expected that the figures will increase considerably during the coming weeks.

REGISTRATION OF SEAMEN TO CEASE.

The Board of Trade has notified the Imperial Merchant Service Guild that it has been decided to discontinue the registration of seamen. This decision has been taken owing to the pressing need for economy, and it is anticipated that the sum of £16,000 will be saved annually. On and after 1st November no further applications for registration can be dealt with, but identity certificates which have been prepared before that date will be issued. Officers and seamen who already hold identity certificates should retain them, as they may be useful in satisfying the requirement of foreign Governments when landing.

RUNNING COSTS.

The following is said to be approximately the daily cost of running an 8,000 ton steamer under various flags, the United States flag steamers taken at 100 per cent., the flags of other nations at the proportionately less cost at which they can be run. These figures include depreciation, interest, insurance, feeding, stores, and all understood usual charges, but exclude fuel.

Flag.	Cost a day.	Per.
United States	$500	100
French	400	20
British	360	28
Norwegian	300	40
Japanese	275	45
Spanish	200	60
German	150	70

ANGLO-BALTIC SHIPBUILDING.

The agreement on the lease of the Russian-Baltic Shipyards, which have been so far controlled by Schneider-Creusot, to the Anglo-Baltic Shipbuilding and Engineering Company has been concluded and approved by the Estonian Government. The contract is for three years and both parties have the right of demanding extension under certain conditions. All employees are to be taken over by the English company. In the first year the number of employees will be increased from 400 to 1,000, in the second year to 1,500, and in the third year to 2,000. The need of new ships and the repair of old ones will give the company ample work. By this contract the largest shipyards of Lithuania and Riga are now in the hands of the English company.

BRITISH SHIPOWNERS AND GERMAN SHIPS.

The purchase of German ships by British shipowners is a subject which has roused more controversy than anything arising out of the World War, writes a London correspondent. It is difficult to say whether the animosity displayed towards that particular part of the Reparations Treaty is more bitter from shipbuilders or shipbuilders' employees. Taking the ordinary and natural point of view, it seems incredible that anyone should expect an owner wanting a ship to refuse a good one at a cheap figure, and as a matter of fact, they don't. I have had another point of view put before me recently, however, by a shipowner who has not thus far invested in the cheap ships of the Disposal Board. It is, in effect, a very long view and worth consideration. His point is that by taking this shipping we are building up our mercantile fleet with a type of vessel which though not obsolete now, will rapidly become obsolete—certainly quicker than new tonnage. Now is this all, he continued, for by taking these ships we make it imperative that Germany shall build new ones for herself, and these future mercantile fleet going to be brand new at a time when ours is becoming obsolete. It is an interesting point of view and worth consideration.

TIME SIGNALS.

The time ball on Kowloon Signal Hill is dropped daily at 10 a.m. and 4 p.m., except on Saturdays when it is dropped at 10 a.m. and 1 p.m., and on Sundays and Holidays when it is dropped at 10 a.m. only.

The ball is hoisted half mast at the 55th minute and full mast at the 57th minute. Should the ball fail to drop at the correct time, it will be lowered at five minutes past the hour and the ordinary routine repeated at the following hour, if possible.

Should the time ball be out of order the above routine will be carried out with the flag "Z" on the storm signal mast.

Time signals are also given at night by means of three white lamps mounted vertically on the Observatory wireless mast. From 8h. 55m. 0s. to 9h. 0m. 0s. p.m. the lamps are extinguished momentarily at the even seconds, except at the 2nd, 28th, 50th, 52nd, and 54th of each minute.

The hours refer to Hongkong Standard Time (8 hours of east Greenwich).

MORE WORK FOR THE PREMIER.

Mr. Lloyd George is to be elected on the Council of the Welsh National Library.

GIANT OF THE ARMY.

By the passing and attestation of a recruit Major P. W. Downes placed the 17th. Battalion of the London Regiment, the Poplar and Stepney Rifles, in the proud position of being the first territorial battalion to reach its full strength of 680 men since the reconstruction of the Force. The battalion also claims to have the giant of the British Army in the person of Sergeant-Instructor McDonnell, who weighs 19st. 7lb.
